

PETEN TRAVELS

TRAVEL BEYOND THE ORDINARY

THE JEWELS OF THE OTTOMAN EMPIRE From the Emirates to the Empire Bursa, Edirne, Istanbul

Friday, October 4th - Saturday, October 12nd
(8 nights, 9 days)

“Without the contributions and influence of the Ottoman Turks, life would be different and diminished. For centuries Western art and culture have been enriched and refined in many ways, which we take for granted.” (By Philippa Scott from the book of “Turkish Delights”).

Life would be different indeed for the whole world if that small band of Turks led by Ertuğrul, and later his son Osman, had not stepped onto the stage of history in the 13th century, creating a great empire that in its most magnificent years under Suleyman the Magnificent would stretch from western Europe to Northern Africa, an empire that left an indelible mark on world history, art and culture before it finally took its bows in the early 20th century.

Day 3 Edirne

Hotel Edirne Palace

Travelling distance: 228 km ~ 142 miles

A two hour scenic drive through ancient Thrace takes us to the magical city of Edirne, the city that served as the second capital city of the Ottomans. The first great Ottoman building in Edirne is the Eski Cami, located in the heart of the town, built between 1403 and 1415. We next stop at the 15th century Bedesten, built for the storage and sale of the most valuable items of commerce, its revenues in trust for the upkeep of Eski Cami. The Üç Şerefeli Cami, the mosque of the Three Balconied Minarets, represents a complete stylistic innovation in early Ottoman architecture. For the first time a massive central dome was placed over a rectangular floor plan, marking the first step towards that passion in Ottoman architecture for an expanse of unbroken interior space beneath a crowning dome. Then a short drive over bridges and dikes transports us out into the countryside to the gleaming white mosque and charity complex built in 1484 to 1485 by Sultan Beyazıt II, the Beyazıt II’s Külliye. This complex consists of a mosque, hospital, medical school, soup kitchen, pharmacy, bath, kitchens and storage rooms. This complex was once one of the greatest charitable foundations of the Islamic world. It was here that Lady Mary Wortley Montagu took the revolutionary step of having her children inoculated against smallpox. We also visit the Mosque of Muradiye with its blue and white tiles. (B, D)

Considered by many to be the highest attainment of Ottoman architecture, the mosque was built between 1569 and 1574. We drive back to Istanbul and take the fast ferry from Yenikapı to Bursa, the first capital city of the Ottoman Empire. Our hotel is located on the ancient hot thermal spa, don’t miss the Turkish bath before dinner! (B, D)

Then we drive up to the Citadel where we view the best-preserved section of the citadel walls along with the Tombs of Osman and Orhan Gazi. We wander through the old streets of Bursa and stop at the leafy, largely residential district of Muradiye. Back down in the city we explore the Silk Market (Koza hanı). A short drive to the northern foothills of Mount Uludağ brings us to the picturesque village of Cumalıkızık. Set amongst chestnut and fig trees, the village is famous for its Ottoman period rural architecture. It was originally established under the endowment of the second Ottoman Sultan Orhan Gazi (1324-1360), and settled by Turks of the Kızık branch of the Kayı clan. (B, D)
